Man Gives Up After Shooting

Three-Hour Siege Is Ended by Son

GLOUSTER, June 10—(P)—John LaCourte, 50, was held in the Athens County Jail today without charges pending investigation of the shooting of his former housekeeper in a downtown restaurant.

Sheriff George Bateman said charges would be filed as soon as the condition of Mrs. Anna Gilmore Lewis, 36, was determined.

Mrs. Lewis was taken to Shelters Arms Hospital in Athens with three bullet wounds, inflicted with a .32 caliber revolver, the sheriff said.

LaCourte barricaded himself in his home after the shooting and remained there three hours while the sheriff and a deputy, a Gloucester policeman and a state highway patrolman pleaded with him to come out.

He threatened suicide if the officers tried to get him, police said.

The siege lasted three hours, Bateman said, until LaCourte's son, Thomas, about 22, arrived on the scene. The son went into the house through a side door and after pleading with his father for about 10 minutes, the elder LaCourte surrendered. No shots were fired.

Bateman quoted LaCourte as saying Mrs. Lewis "ruined my life." She had been housekeeper at LaCourte's house for several years but had left four years ago, the sheriff said.

A barber, LaCourte was born in Sicily and came to this country about 30 years ago. His wife died 14 years ago.

California Earthquake

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10—(P)—A small to moderate earthquake set bird cages and chandeliers swinging along 100 miles of the central California coast last night. No damage was reported.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

Here's one the late Robert Ripley could have used in his "Believe It or Not" collection.

What do you suppose they're using to catch carp hereabouts now?—Wheaties. I suppose any other similar breakfast cereal would serve the purpose. But, maybe they want to lure the suckers with a breakfast (or dinner or supper) of champions.

I could hardly believe it myself but Jerry Speakman, for one, brought back two pounds of scaly evidence.

He explained: "All you do is just take a handful and stick it in the water and then wait it up and squeeze it into a ball and put it on the hook." Yes, it is as simple as that.

Jerry, a 12-year-old junior high school boy from over in Sunnyside, insisted the Wheaties balls would stay on the hook when dropped in the water.

He was real proud of that big carp. He admitted he was so excited he threw it over his head when he yanked it out of the water.

It's the sport not the food Jerry's after.

Full Schedule of Activities Drafted for Summer Months

Supervisors for the city's five playgrounds were assigned Thursday by Fred Pierson, recreation director, and plans outlined for a big opening of the summer program Monday.

Pierson said plans were being made for a bigger recreation program than was offered in 1948.

A full schedule of activities, with times the playgrounds will be open, was outlined at a meeting of the supervisors Thursday in the city building.

The program will be officially launched with a parade, starting at 2 P. M. of city and country youngsters who will take part in the summer program.

Youngsters will then be the guests of the city at a wild west show to be held following the parade at Wilson field. It will be staged by the Mt. Sterling Western Horse Club.

Two Supervisors Return

Two supervisors from last year will again be back on the job. They are Hugh Rea, basketball and baseball coach at South Salem, and Carroll Steele, former WHS athlete and student at Ohio University.

New supervisors to be added to Pierson's staff are Sally Keck, English and dramatics teacher at WHS, and Lela Backenstoe, WHS and Ohio University graduate who has recently been working for the Farm Bureau in Columbus.

Mrs. Keck will supervise at the Eastside and Sunnyside playgrounds, Miss Backenstoe at Cherry Hill and Rose Avenue, Rea at Eastside and Gardner Park and Steele at Cherry Hill and Rose Avenue.

The playgrounds will not actually be opened for use until Tuesday.

Times when each playground will have a supervisor on duty at are:

Cherry Hill—9:30 A. M. to 12 noon; Eastside, 9:30 A. M. to 12 noon; Rose Avenue, 1:30 P. M. to 5 P. M.; Sunnyside, 1:30 P. M. to 5 P. M.; and Gardner Park 1:30 P. M. to 5 P. M.

New Play Area Added

A new play area—McCoy field—will open this year for softball playing for the first time. The field is located at the corner of Elm and Sycamore, and was donated for use of youngsters by V. R. McCoy.

The recreation staff has outlined a full schedule of activities for youths of the community and county who want to take part in the program.

Activities include group games, knot hole softball, basketball, free play, dramatics, nature study, baseball, music, art, story-telling, sandbox play, handicrafts and apparatus play.

Leagues for junior softballers will be formed Tuesday at four play areas, according to Pierson.

Those interested in participating in the leagues should report at Wilson Field and Eastside at 9:30 A. M. and at Rose Avenue (Please Turn to Page Ten)

Fighting and Hiding Reds Ends

Lithuanian General Happy at Last

CULVER CITY, Calif., (P)—A one-time commander in chief of the Lithuanian Army goes to work today assembling airplane hydraulic valves in a little back shop here.

But Gen. Stasys Rastikis says he is "happy as a bird" behind a work bench at the Hartwell Aviation Co.

The 53-year-old general starts work at the bottom less than a month after he and his wife, Helen Marie, 46, arrived in New York as displaced persons. They were sick and exhausted after nine years of fighting, hiding, running and imprisonment at the hands of the Russians and Germans.

Underground reports say that one of their three daughters is dead. From the other two, also whisked away to Siberia, has come no word. Mrs. Rastikis, arrested with the girls, was imprisoned but eventually released.

She rejoined her husband in the Lithuanian underground.

How the general came to work here is a story in itself. Clark Hartwell, the aviation company owner, met the Rev. Joseph Concius, president of the United Lithuanian relief in America, at Lake Arrowhead, Calif. Father Concius asked Hartwell if he could use a good man. Hartwell said "sure" and the "good man" turned out to be Gen. Rastikis.

Ikkes Is Called In Spy Trial but Is Soon Excused

FBI Investigation In Coplon Case Under Consideration

WASHINGTON, June 10—(P)—Reports from the Judith Coplon espionage trial that the FBI checked on (1) the Russian embassy, (2) a barber at a rocket testing range and (3) a Russian language newspaper produced protests today from the barber and the paper's editor, and silence from the embassy.

The defense in the case, meanwhile, served notice that reading of 12 FBI reports that have come into the trial will continue.

Harold L. Ikkes, former secretary of the interior, showed up today as a defense witness in the espionage trial, but was excused until later.

Ikkes responded to a subpoena issued by Archibald Palmer, Miss Coplon's attorney.

During his brief stay in the courtroom Ikkes told reporters he doesn't know "a thing about it except what I see in the papers."

Palmer told reporters, however, he wanted Ikkes to testify concerning the truth of one of the 34 so-called data slips found in Miss Coplon's purse when she was arrested in New York March 4 with Valentine A. Gubitchev, a Russian.

Confidential Information

One of the reports read to the jury yesterday mentioned 19 confidential informants, all described as reliable, as watching over Communist activities in Washington, including what went on in the Soviet embassy.

"T-19," one of the informants, was identified by the report as a member of the Communist party and a member of the Southern Conference on Human Welfare.

"T-19" called the conference "a transmission belt to reach the masses," and told the FBI "all officials are controlled by the Communist party."

Another report quoted a "reliable" informer as saying a barber at the White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico, where guided missiles are tested, was expected to be able "to get photographs and other information" for transmission to the Russian embassy in Mexico. Barber was identified as Eugenio Chavez, also known as Eugenio Orta.

The informant described Chavez as a member of the Communist party at Juarez, Mexico, and a resident of El Paso. He worked at the post exchange at White Sands, but was not a government employee, the report said.

Chavez Denies Spying

In El Paso, Chavez said "I never spied on anyone or tried to be a spy." He described himself as a patriotic American who had no idea how his name got into the papers. He said he has left wing sympathies and subscribed to the Communist newspaper, the daily worker.

Farmer Kills Self To End Suffering

RED CREEK, N. Y., June 10—(P)—A farmer pinned by an overturned tractor strangled himself with twigs to end his agony, a coroner's physician reported.

James Jenkins, 52, was caught yesterday beneath the machine when it tipped over backward while hauling a mower up a steel hill in an orchard. The tractor seat crushed his abdomen.

Dr. Charles Single, acting as a Wayne County coroner's physician, said Jenkins apparently grasped twigs from a nearby bush, placed them around his throat and strangled himself.

The body was found by a neighbor several hours later.

Germany Is Recovering from War, Says Man Back Here after Visit

Henry Zeigler is back at work today after spending 12 days in Germany, the scene of his childhood.

Besides bringing back souvenirs for his family, Zeigler also returned with interesting stories on what is going on in that country and a first-hand report for Washington C. H. citizens on conditions they hear about every day over the radio and in the newspapers.

Zeigler, who left here only a little more than three weeks ago, flew both ways. He went to Germany to visit his father after the death there of his mother. It was his fourth visit to that country since he first left there for Cleveland in 1923.

BONES OF AN ESTIMATED 10,000 persons, including skulls dented and split by vicious sword blows received in ancient battles, decorate All Saints Church in Sedlec, Czechoslovakia. The church was built in 1280. The nearby cemetery came to be regarded as unusually sacred ground and thousands of burials were made there. By 1600 soldiers had carried off all the church decorations, so bones from the graveyard were used as replacements. Strings of skulls form an eerie shadow on the ceiling in the above picture. When the candles in the grotesque chandelier are lit, the skulls give an uncanny impression that they are taking part in the ceremonies. (International)

Extremes In Population Found In Ohio Congress Districts

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON, June 10—(P)—The heaviest populated congressional district lies in Ohio, as well as the district having next to the smallest population, a House statistical report said today.

The coordinator of information for the House said the district with the most people is Ohio's 22nd, with a population of 698,650, represented by Rep. Frances P. Bolton, Republican.

The smallest is Rep. Case's (R) second district of South Dakota, with 157,132 population, the coordinator said, and the second smallest is Rep. Cleveland's (R) fifth Ohio district, 163,561.

Comparison with the rankings in prior years would be misleading, the coordinator said, because border lines of a number of districts have been changed to take in more population or reduce the total. The new figures were based on 1940 census figures.

Second largest district is the Maryland second, population 534,526, represented by Rep. William P. Bolton (D), the report showed, with Rep. Huber's (D) 14th Ohio district third largest, with 531,439 inhabitants.

The figures were requested by Huber.

Ranking upwards from the smallest two, in the order of size, are:

Colorado 4th district 172,847; Arkansas 3rd, 177,476; Ohio 10th, 180,482; Ohio 11th, 181,117; Ohio 8th, 183,187; Arizona 1st, 186,193; Florida 6th, 186,831; Oklahoma 7th, 189,547.

Zeigler said that although he had been glad to go to Germany to see his friends and relatives, he was happy to be home in this country and glad he had not remained in Germany, but had come here in his youth as he did. He said being in Germany made him realize just how wonderful this country was.

Second Mystery Fire Fatal to Kentuckian

MARION, Ky., June 10—(P)—A second mysterious fire at the home of Henry F. Todd, near To-Ju, brought death to the 56-year-old bachelor yesterday. He dropped dead while trying to extinguish the blaze.

Crittenden County Sheriff John A. Hunt, who is investigating, said Todd notified him Wednesday that he found his bed afire when he returned from a trip here. Several valuables also were missing, the sheriff said.

Sheriff Hunt said the surviving brother, Will, told him the two men were working in a nearby field yesterday when they spotted flames. They were unable to save the house. Todd died while attempting to remove tools from a nearby garage.

Additional gas heating installations were approved by the state Utilities Commission June 8.

Bill Last Year 5 Times Bigger Than in 1945

Hospitalization One of Heaviest Drains on Fund

Fayette County's relief costs, like those elsewhere in Ohio, have increased several times over during the past few years and the problem of financing the tremendous boost in the state is causing concern on the part of state officials.

For instance in Fayette County the relief costs mounted from $12,442.07 in 1945, to $59,641.96 last year and so far (up to June 1) the cost this year has reached $31,141.40, indicating the costs for the year will reach well over $60,000.

The costs in Fayette County for 1946 reached $16,851.34 and in 1947 this had mounted to $27,298.49, and then the big jump to $59,641.96 came in 1948.

In addition to the tremendous cost of relief last year, $5,128.17 was expended in direct relief from various trust funds.

Money from State

Last year $21,203.55 of the total relief funds came from public utility excise taxes, and the state matched the amount with $33,250.40. None of the amount came from direct taxes in the county.

Mrs. Herbert Cockerill, relief director in the county, explained the greatest increase in relief costs as being due to increased costs of living since 1945, but the largest increase, she said, is due to medical and hospitalization cases, where larger amounts have been expended than ever before as more cases have been turned over for relief, and medical, surgical and hospitalization costs have mounted.

Mrs. Cockerill cited increased costs in hospitalization as an example. A few years ago the daily cost per patient was $4.50 in the hospitals where patients were sent, and now the costs are $10.50 to $11 daily. In 1948 the daily hospital cost was $9.50 per day.

Rolls Growing, too

More people are on relief than in 1945, Mrs. Cockerill stated, and the budget costs generally have mounted since the low figures in 1942.

Usually the same people are furnished relief year after year, with new ones added from time to time as the cases develop.

Mrs. Cockerill is assisted in the relief work here by Miss Minnie Mayo, and it was stated that whenever and wherever it is necessary to investigate cases before relief is furnished, and while it is being furnished, this is done by personal visits and a general check-up.

At the present time there are no cases on relief from the rural areas except medical and hospitalization, Mrs. Cockerill said. The winter months bring more calls from the rural areas, however, she said.

In the trust funds which are administered for the poor, County Auditor Ulric T. Acton disclosed, the balance January 1 was $15,905.26, compared with a balance of $16,653.59 a year ago.

Triples in State

The cost of poor relief in Ohio has nearly tripled in the last seven years, making it one of the state's most acute financial problems.

This was disclosed by Robert B. Canary, chief of the state welfare department's division of social administration. Canary said the state faces a $24,000,000 poor relief bill this year.

With the number of needy persons still below 1941, the poor relief bill in 1949 will be higher than for any year since the U.S. entry into World War II, Canary said.

An average of 25,000 persons a month are on poor relief today, compared to 55,000 a month in 1941.

During the war, when poor relief was at its peak, it was $1.00 a month (Please turn to Page Two)

Minimum Pay Of Ministers Boosted $400

Fayette Laymen Plan
To Attend Meeting
Over Sunday

A number of laymen of the Fayette County Methodist Churches, are planning to attend the annual Ohio Conference, now underway at Lakeside, on Lake Erie, over Sunday. All Methodist ministers of the county are attending the conference.

The conference has voted to raise the minimum salary of full conference ministers to $2,000 per year.

The increase, approved yesterday at the group's annual meeting, boosts the present minimum by $400.

The minimum for accepted supply pastors was raised $300 to a new scale of $1,700.

An additional allowance of $100 for each parsonage child under 18, but for no more than three, also was approved under the minimum salary program. It was presented by Dr. F. Bringle McIntosh, Toledo district superintendent.

The conference, in other action, authorized a special college allowance of $300 for children of ministers in the minimum salary group. It will be paid for one year for one child in each family.

Rev. Hugh S. Graham of Xenia presented a temperance report saying "drinking people" were infiltrating into official board of local churches. He urged serious study of the matter.

With almost 20,000 new members added in the past year, the Ohio Methodist conference now has a membership of 297,000.

Dr. F. Bringle McIntosh, Toledo district superintendent, and Rev. Riss C. Hurley of St. Paris, conference statistician, delivered reports on the new members as the conference opened its annual session yesterday.

Van Pelt was the leader in the absence of Mrs. Ralph Pope, regular discussion head. The main legislation talked about was the Charles Brandon Farm Bill.

Sixteen members and 9 children were present at the meeting, which was adjourned after refreshments had been served by the hostess.

Moyer Accepts New School Job

Leaves Bloomingburg
For Jackson Post

The day after the Bloomingburg Board of Education thought it had solved all of its teaching corps problems for the coming year, it learned that Robert Moyer, principal of the elementary school, was resigning.

Although Moyer has not sent in his written resignation yet, he has accepted a position as superintendent of the Jackson Township School in Pickaway County.

Moyer said he was offered the position Tuesday night when he was chosen from a list of ten candidates by the Jackson board. He said he notified William J. Purcell, clerk of the Bloomingburg board Wednesday, but waited until he received his Jackson contract before sending in his formal resignation.

He said the Bloomingburg board would receive his written resignation Saturday, while at the same time the Jackson board would get his signed contract for next year.

Thus, Bloomingburg is now minus an elementary principal after it had thought all positions for the next school term were filled.

Moyer has been elementary school principal and an English and mathematics teacher at Bloomingburg for the past three and one-half years. He also taught at the school for one year before entering the army. He served over four years in the armed forces before returning to Bloomingburg.

The new Jackson superintendent received his bachelor of science degree in education from Ohio University and his masters from Ohio State. He replaces R. D. Shauk, who resigned as Jackson superintendent at the Tuesday meeting.

Moyer said he plans to move to Jackson as soon as he can locate a home for his wife and two children in Pickaway County.

Summer Navy Course Opened to Recruits

Announcement was made today that the Naval Air Station at Port Columbus has received an allotment to train 100 men for eight weeks this summer.

Those who may take part in the program are seamen recruits, already in the organized air reserve, men in the V-6 inactive reserve and not attached to any reserve organization.

Minimum age requirement is 17 years. Those who complete the program, which starts June 20 and ends August 15, will be advanced to the next highest rate. Candidates must follow a rigid routine of training.

Relief Costs Here

Relief rolls were at their lowest, taxes on utility bills were more than enough to pay the relief costs.

Since 1945, when the low point of 10,500 cases a month existed, there has been a steady increase. And there is no indication this increase will be halted.

Governor Frank J. Lausche has called poor relief the number one problem facing Ohio. Many counties have exhausted their war-built surpluses or will do so soon. This is especially true in the Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland, Dayton, Zanesville and Springfield areas.

Two reasons are given by the welfare department's division of social administration. One is housing and the other is the higher cost of living.

"Having trouble

hot days?"

When I dropped in at Ed's place one hot morning, Mrs. Jones was out at the milk cooling tank, stirring.

"Having trouble cooling the milk these hot days?"

"Had our first rejection yesterday," she said.

"Ever stop to think that stirring just opens up the can to dust and more bacteria?"

"But it won't cool right otherwise," she said.

"An International cooler brings milk temperature down to 50° in less than an hour," I explained.

• The Cross Revisited

By ROY L. SMITH

The story is told of a young business man, during the period of the War Between the States, who had been drafted into the Union army. According to the law then in force it was possible for him to be excused from military duty providing he could find someone who would serve in his stead. Such a man was found, somewhere in the community, and the young business man went on with his affairs as usual.

Then one day the word came back that the substitute had been killed in battle. Immediately a profound change came over the young business man. When he appeared upon the street nothing was sufficient to bring a smile to his lips. He moved among his neighbors saying nothing that was not absolutely necessary. He walked every day like a man under some overwhelming spell. When it could be arranged he contrived to bring back to the community the body of the dead man. He purchased a beautiful site in the village burying ground and interred the body with the utmost tenderness and respect. Then he caused to be erected on the spot a dignified monument on which there appeared these words: "To the memory of THE MAN WHO DIED FOR ME."

Barrabas Appears

A preacher sat at his desk late one Saturday night in a painful effort to complete his sermon for the following evening. It was to be an Easter sermon, and he had announced that he would speak on the subject, "The Cross Revisited."

Something of the spell of the occasion had taken hold of him, so that he was unable to reduce his thinking to strictly logical terms. That which he had outlined in his mind originally as a good solid and substantial discussion of the theological aspects of the cross of crucifixion simply would not develop, try as he might.

Suddenly his fancy took wings and in his imagination he saw the shadowy figure of a huge hulk of a fellow, very evidently of the rougher sort, hurrying down the dusty highway at the close of the evening, quite evidently in a desperate hurry. He had just come to a sharp turn in the road when, there upon the crest of a low bald hill, he saw three empty crosses standing out against the evening sky.

Hardened fellow that he was, there was something about those three gaunt crosses that arrested his mind and left him standing, feet wide apart and arms hanging loosely, in the middle of the road. For a full minute he stared. Then with a wild cry, he leaped from the road and cried, "That one was mine!" And pointing with a long bony finger at the cross in the center he approached it slowly, as if in a spell. He was trembling now. Something like a palsy seized upon him and he sank into the thin grass as if stricken. All the time his lips moved, but no sound came from his throat. For some minutes he crouched, terrified. Then, pulling himself together in a mad frenzy of fear, he took one last horrified look at the cross, arose, and ran wildly across the hills. It was Barrabas, the robber, whose freedom had been purchased when Jesus had died in his stead.

Pilate Passes By

Scarcely had Barrabas disappeared across the hills when a Roman chariot rounded the arm of the little hill, and a high officer of the Empire, together with his wife, drove down the road in the direction of the crosses.

The woman was sobbing quietly, and the officer was staring straight ahead. As they drew near to the foot of the hill crowned with the empty crosses the woman chanced to look up for just a second, and the ghastly sight met her eyes. With a sudden intake of breath she covered her lips with the fingers of one hand and clutched at her husband's cloak with the other.

"There! There!" she whispered hoarsely. "There's where he died!" "Claudia," the officer exclaimed, wearily. "I've said it a hundred times. I didn't want to do it. Those Jews would have burned the city if I hadn't, they were that mad." "Oh, Pilate," the woman whispered, "I know. But I warned you. And this man had something like God about him. He did not deserve to die."

Is it? And as the procurator's chariot disappeared down the highway the preacher bowed his head upon his desk and prayed, asking God, "Was it not for me that he died? Forgive my complacency."

Woman Tops in Ohio Trapshoot

A Jeffersonville woman today was setting the pace in the 63rd annual Ohio State Trapshoot at Middletown.

Mrs. H. B. Rader, who ranks among the best feminine gunners on the clay target circuit, was the top woman marksman of the meet after breaking 185 out of 200 in Thursday's turn at the traps. Mrs. George Fairchild of Reading, Pa., was second with 184 out of 200.

Out-of-state shooters are finding the going a bit rough.

For several years the boys from Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and other such way stations have been taking down top money in the various Ohio events while the Buckeyes had to be content with the state championships.

But that was changed yesterday. Ohioans took top money—and the championships—in two of the class shoots, shared in another, and finished on top in the professional and women's division. Only one out-of-stater got top money in a class shoot.

Happy Homemakers

Bake and Eat Cake

The Yatesville Happy Homemakers reversed an old saying Thursday afternoon when they both "made their cake and ate it" during a meeting at the home of their adviser, Mrs. Lon Chattin.

It was the third meeting for the group which made a cake and put it in the oven before holding a business session.

The business session got under way with Joan Cleland, secretary, calling the roll and reading a report before the girls discussed cooperating with a radio program in helping the needy people of Europe. The plan includes sending soap box tops and wrappers to one of the programs.

The girls also made plans for their next meeting, to be held June 16 at the home of Joan Cleland, before adjourning to the kitchen to eat the finished cake and have other refreshments.

No Preaching Sunday

There will be no preaching at the Good Hope Methodist Church Sunday, according to Bruce King, superintendent.

King said, however, that Sunday School would be held as usual at 10 A. M. and would be followed by a special Children's Day service.

What Is Behind Atomic Bomb Inquiry?

In talking with a Court Street business man one day this week he remarked that he thought most people really would like to know what is behind the present atomic bomb inquiry in Congress.

"It seems to me," he said, "that the people of this country are concerned over whether they are 'being taken for a ride' in a lot of these matters. We cannot know the difference between propaganda and the whole truth; whether Communists are being protected in official circles or whether the whole thing is so much 'hot air'."

It is true that many Americans find themselves confused by the charges and countercharges which have been flung about somewhat recklessly in the inquiry now under way in connection with the Atomic Energy Commission. Just how much of our knowledge is a military secret and how much is a matter of universal scientific knowledge appears to be in some dispute. Moreover, the potential usages of isotopes also seems to be a factor involved in the picture.

But behind all the confusion, there is beginning to emerge a definite line of demarcation within the atomic world. By and large, there seems to be a growing intellectual pressure among the nuclear physicists towards a greater dissemination of knowledge of atomic facts throughout the world. Among the laymen concerned with the military defense as well as among military experts charged with the maintenance of this defense, there is a growing determination to keep what we have as secret for as long as possible.

Generalities in so important an area of modern development are necessarily precarious, but it is beginning to appear that we must have a closer meeting of the minds on this critical problem. We cannot have our scientists ready, eager and willing to exchange the products of their research with their opposite numbers in every laboratory in the world if we are to have the maximum possible protection for our discoveries.

Kitchen Gadgets

A new complaint against American movies comes from a British woman official, Mrs. Mary Agnes Hamilton, head of the American information department of the Foreign Office. She wishes the movies would stop showing every American housewife preparing dinner in a streamlined kitchen equipped with every kind of gadget. She said it's things like this that create misunderstandings between American and British women.

It is true that not every American housewife has all those gadgets. But if she keeps seeing them in the movies she'll have them, sooner or later. And maybe British women will have them, too, and will thank the movies for prodding them into it.

Life Is Gayer In Silver Foxhole

PARIS, June 10—(AP)—Gayer Paree, the "silver foxhole" in wartime, is gayer than ever now—as wide-open as any pocket-book.

It is odd to come back and see it as thronged with tourists as it used to be with soldiers. Your memory misses the color of khaki.

And your mind goes back to the war years when it was known as the perfect foxhole.

It was the dream of every soldier to get here. Thousands rolled into town from front lines in Belgium, Germany and Holland.

They were often unshaven and muddy and a little "punchy" from combat strain and the weary truck ride here. They had only a 72-hour leave—a brief reprieve from danger.

They cleaned themselves up and made the most of what time they had. They spent it in different ways. Many went excitement-fishing in Montmartre.

They spent their money, and when it was gone they went back to face death with empty pockets.

But there were many quiet boys starved for something else—beauty and peace. Paris had that, too. She had something for every man in the world. So they drank in her antique beauty on sight-seeing trips, went to church, shopped for small gifts of perfume and silk for the folks at home.

Paris had a strange effect on many combat men. They wheeled into the city—rough, boisterous, laughing a little hysterically. They laughed because they thought that for 72 hours they could forget the war.

But many couldn't. It was in them to the bone by then. In a few hours—or a day and a night—the newness wore off. The exhilaration died down, they were like a country cousin who goes to his Park Avenue relative's cocktail party and finds after a round of cocktails that he is out of place.

Having no one to talk to who really understood them, the combat men ganged up in the Red Cross leave centers and talked to each other. They spoke a language that could be shared only by men who had known hardship and seen friends die.

And as they talked they began to worry about their buddies at the front. They missed the gossip of the battle line, the banter of their own platoon mates. And all at once the silver foxhole tarnished. They wanted to be back with the men who knew them. They were homesick to return to the loneliness they had left behind.

So they climbed back into their trucks, some laughing and eager, some silent, some resentful at Paris and the life they had glimpsed there.

Ripley Cashed in on Curiosity

Robert Ripley, as a cartoonist, realized early in life that curiosity is an insatiable human quality. Out of that he built a prosperous career and business. His wares were the queer, the bizarre, the unbelievable, the absurd. "Believe It or Not" became a phrase in all languages.

This insatiable curiosity expressed itself recently in the interest in Rita Hayworth's association across continents and oceans with an Indo-Persian person of no significance with a view to marriage. Rita, although still young, had managed to have and to divorce two husbands, and Aly, as he has become familiarized, was still married, although that is no deterrent to additional marriage, according to the Moslem rite which he practices. However, in due course, he was adequately divorced, which made the subsequent marriage enable. To this marriage was given realms of space in newspapers and seons of time on radio and television. There were two ceremonies, one according to Moslem rites which is a barter proposition, the woman being bought as chattel, since she has no soul; the other, according to French civil law, with the additional feature of its performance by a Communist.

Having adequately satisfied human curiosity, Aly showed his complete snobbishness by beating up a few photographers and proposing that they photograph the exhaust of his automobile, which is a politeness for an Asiatic vulgarity. Aly is reputed to be a descendant of Mohammed on his father's side, although such ancestry has been diluted by about 1,300 years of mixed marriages, the Moslems marrying liberally with the objective of having numerous sons.

That is the story, which is a way or the other, but holds interest first because the lady in question is well publicized; secondly, because it is a repetition of the Cinderella story in which, as you may remember, the prince finally gets the right gal; and also because Aly's father, an enormously fat man who specializes in collecting money and race horses, will one day leave Aly a huge fortune. Apart from this, there is nothing to say about Rita or Aly, except that her daughter should have been left in school in this country to be brought up as an American.

The curiosity which this marriage evoked was perfectly normal and shows why folks prefer westerns to movies with a message, why "Oklahoma!" had a longer run than any play by Ibsen or Shakespeare in its seasons, why Joe DiMaggio's heel is of greater concern than a speech by Dean Acheson, why Communists attract more attention than Republicans, and why a murder is more exciting than rectitude. People like to see and hear and know the unusual and unexpected. It is as simple as that.

Recently, the Daily Mirror in New York has been publishing a series of articles concerning one Atwater Kent who, having spent most of his life amassing a fortune of $42,000,000, reached old age and decided to blow it in uselessly and futilely. He managed the second part with less success than the first part, for when he died he left $8,000,000. The objective of the latter part of his life was to be the world's greatest party-giver, competing with Elsa Maxwell, but in this he also failed, for Petronius, Nero and Caligula beat him at that game. Petronius also was a man of extraordinarily good taste, which Atwater Kent had no time to cultivate.

So he is dead and his parties will be forgotten even by those who attended them, whereas John D. Rockefeller, senior and junior and the grandsons will long be remembered for the good they have done with the money they amassed and the intelligence they usually displayed in their expenditures. Yet Atwater Kent did achieve this success: I wrote about him as have many others, and as what he wanted was to be noticed, even if while calling attention to his curious whim, we all wonder if he is worth the space and ink used to describe him.

Yet curiosity must be satisfied, or life would be dull, indeed—and that is why people will spend hours looking for a four-leaf clover, and Senator Robert A. Taft even used a song about one in his campaign for the presi-

Lawmakers Pressing Inquiries Into Atomic and Defense Acts

By CLARENCE J. BROWN

The Senate has ordered a full-scale investigation of the Atomic Energy Commission and its membership. Its chairman, David Lilienthal, is under special attack by some of his former supporters in the Senate. The investigation is expected to take three weeks or more and to develop considerable fireworks.

The truth or falsity of the ugly Washington rumors over recent decisions of National Defense officials to concentrate American offensive power in the gigantic B-36 bombers, manufactured by the Consolidated-Vultee Corporation, of which Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and heavy Democratic contributor, Frank O'Drum, have been officials, will be determined through an investigation by the House committee on armed services. Perhaps more important may be a decision by the committee as to whether huge bombers are better military weapons than the more conventional ones, including naval fighting ships and airplane carriers.

In the last few days the flight of Gerhart Eisler, a fugitive from American justice and a convicted Communist leader, has been much in the news, as has also the Washington trial of Judith Coplon, government employee charged with turning over American secrets to a Russian agent. At long last, the trial of Alger Hiss, former high State Department official charged by a confessed under-cover Communist agent before the House un-American activities committee with betraying this country, got under way last week in New York. Many members of the House un-American activities committee, which has been quite inactive since the new Congress convened in January are becoming quite critical of the present situation and are charging their committee is not being permitted to function.

The Truman administration has given the bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act the right-of-way in the Senate, even ahead of the North Atlantic defense pact. It appears likely, however, that the administration's repeal efforts will meet the same fate in the Senate as in the House. If the Senate passes any new labor legislation, it will be along the line of that favored by Senator Taft, retaining the important sections of the Taft-Hartley Act with some moderating amendments. The House is not expected to take up the issue again until after the Senate has acted.

The Senate appropriations committee has approved an item of a little more than $5,000,000 for the repair and rebuilding of the White House along its present lines using the original outer walls. This will cost more than to build an entirely new structure on the same architectural plan. The committee decided, however, it was more important to save the outer walls of the White House than to save money.

With the business decline continuing, it now appears certain Congress will not increase taxes as requested by President Truman. As a result, the Democratic legislative leaders have switched tactics and are now proposing a plan which would require corporations to pay most, if not all, of their

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, June 10—(AP)—The trial of Judith Coplon, charged with spying for Russia, has become like a Greek tragedy.

Once the characters, seen and unseen, have been set in motion there is no turning back. They move on to the inevitable climax.

And there is great irony in it: So that one person, Miss Coplon, can have a fair trial according to American justice, other people not directly connected with her at all have been held up to suspicion.

They are Hollywood actors, for the most part. They have been dragged into the case because once it got started there was no stopping it.

Now spread across the court record is an FBI report showing these actors have been accused of being Communists or fellow-travelers.

Who accused them? FBI "informants" whose names are not known except to the FBI.

Are they reliable "informants"? Do they know for a fact what they say is true? Only the FBI knows. The court record doesn't say.

This happened yesterday. And last night, one after another, the accused assailed the FBI report as absurd, or unconstitutional, or laughable.

Will any proof be forthcoming from the government about these accused people? Or will their names be cleared? No one knows.

It all came about this way: Miss Coplon, 28, worked in the justice department. The FBI arrested her in New York March 4 with a Russian.

In her pocketbook, the FBI said, she had a number of confidential government papers dealing with national security.

She was charged with spying for Russia and went to trial here several weeks ago.

The government lawyers did not want 12 confidential pieces of paper, which the FBI said they found on her, to get into the trial. Why? They said national security was involved. They said FBI informants would be placed in danger.

But what of Miss Coplon? She was on trial before a jury. In reaching a verdict of guilty or not guilty, should the jury—ing the whole case, it could reach an intelligent decision? or—

2. Have to reach a verdict on hearsay, which is what it would amount to if the government said it found secret papers on Miss Coplon but wouldn't let the jury decide on their merit?

The government lawyers even hinted that they'd drop the case against Miss Coplon before letting the secret information become public.

But the federal trial judge told the government lawyers: "I wish I could throw some protection around you, but I can't do that. I'm here to see that justice is done."

"If the reading of the report imperils the government, the government ought not to be here."

So he said the secret papers would have to be made public. Faced with this, the government lawyers decided they'd rather let the papers out than abandon the case against Miss Coplon.

Bit by bit the reports of the "informants" then were read into the record, the reports which accused the actors and others of Communist activity or sympathy.

In short, the judge had ruled that the government should never have started the case unless it was willing to go through with it.

Dusty Detour Placed on CCC

Road Improvement Now Under Way

Work of widening, eliminating two curves and filling a sharp depression is under way on the CCC Highway, between the Derby cross roads and cross roads at Harrisburg, with the result that detours are in effect on the route, and part of the detours have been bad to travel due to dust and narrow roads.

The east-bound traffic is turned east at the Derby Cross roads and after winding over county roads for some distance, connects with the CCC at Harrisburg.

The westbound traffic headed toward Washington C. H., starts a detour at a cross roads just this side of Harrisburg, at the hilltop, and there are more than three miles of gravel or stone road included in the detour. This detour

Rural Groups To Broadcast

Many From Fayette Will Participate

Rural youth groups from Fayette County will be featured during the "Junior Fair" radio program Saturday, July 2, at 1:30 P. M. over Ohio's Rural Radio Station WRFD.

"Junior Fair" is a new series of radio broadcasts designed to bring into sharp focus the various projects undertaken by rural young people throughout the state. Each county is given an opportunity to tell about its outstanding achievements, both on an individual and group basis.

Music for "Junior Fair" is supplied by instrumentalists and vocalists from each county. They are chosen two weeks before the program, at competitive auditions. The time and place of Fayette County musical auditions will be Thursday afternoon, June 16, 2:00 P. M., at the Little Theater, connects with the CCC at the Derby crossroads.

Many complaints of dust, narrow roads and bad turns, have been made by people traveling the detour, but Howard Gregg, route marker, said Wednesday that chloride is being applied to the dusty sections in an effort to hold the dust down and make the detour as good as possible.

Graders and other equipment are being used along the section which is undergoing improvement, and it may be two or three weeks before the detour, which was started Monday, is lifted.

When completed the section of road being given attention will be in better condition and safer than it is now.

Washington High School building. Although the Fayette County cast for the program has not been selected, it is expected that the group representing this county will be a cross-section of 4-H, FFA, FHA, Farm Bureau, Grange and other young people's organizations. Selection of the program participants is in the hands of a special "Junior Fair" radio committee consisting of Connie Pyle, Ruth Engle, Juanita Roberts, Barton Montgomery, Joe Fisher and Malcolm Bloomer, working under the direction of W. W.

Montgomery, county agricultural agent, and other county rural youth leaders.

The group will travel to Columbus on the day of the broadcast to make their appearance in the 6th Floor Assembly Center of the Lazarus building.

Poet's Corner

An Answer To "Something To Tell You?"

Now we have something to tell you men

We have talked it over and wonder when

Or how we ever can dress to please you

For stye, nor age, or size, has nothing to do

With the stares and looks we get When we are walking down the street

We can't tell whether our hose is "offset"

Or maybe by chance, the "hook and eye" don't meet.

Now, "Bless your Harts" we won't get mad—no"

For we can't tell if it's the "Brand New Look"

Or the "Long, Long Stare" that attracts you so

But feel you would want us to follow the show

For styles do change, but men never do

But they don't keep up on new names

For petti-coats were replaced by "slips" long ago.

There as safe as the belts men and boys wear

Are always well anchored, with greatest of care

So don't let it worry you or cause despair

Just continue with that "Long, Long Stare"

We don't want to deprive you of pleasures galore

Just like you men, we too follow the change

Since the sky is the limit it seems any more

Lets not censure the opposite where their eyes range.

We can't help if grandma dresses like sister

And her interests in life are still young,

Those few scant garments may cover hearts of gold,

We make allowances, and your praises are sung.

So please be as considerate as we try to be

And we'll all be happy and content.

If you see a "slip" showing—don't whistle

Just sing and we'll know what is meant.

Sugar Grove WCTU Meets

The members of the Sugar Grove WCTU met at the home of Mrs. Frank Haines. Mrs. Earl Scott president, conducted the business session, opening with devotionals in charge of Mrs. Haines, who also conducted the program. "What The Days Want" and "Look Out Of The Other Window," were articles read by Mrs. Clarence Campbell. She said in part, "drinking among juveniles has doubled in the past five years," and also described the startling facts that recently Marijuana found among tomato seeds had sent one gardener to prison and cocaine worth $3,195,000 had been found in New York City.

The title of Mrs. Ralph Hays' paper was "Beating The Liquor Advertising." Mrs. Beryl Cavinee discussed four subjects "Why Do Women Drink?", "Are Women Fools To Drink?", "Why Do Women Abstain?" and "Why Do Women Join the WCTU?" Mrs. Scott closed the program with the poem, "Lord Let Me Live To Create" and the quotation "Church Is No Place To Praise Beer or Sell it,"—by Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, National WCTU president. Mrs. Haines was assisted by Mrs. Cavinee in the serving of delicious refreshments during a social hour following.

Robin Newhouse Will Attend Third Annual Buckeye State

Robin Newhouse, a senior next fall in Washington C. H. High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Newhouse, today is getting ready for a big summer.

The summer will include a week at a Y-Teen Camp, a vacation with her parents in Michigan, the WHS band trip to New York City and attending Buckeye Girls' State.

In fact, Robin has so much planned, that she is making a minute-by minute schedule of events. For example, Buckeye State starts the same day the Y-Teen Camp closes. That means Robin will have to return home from Camp Inawadewin in Akron, grab fresh clothes and start for Capital University, the scene of the girls' state.

Buckeye Girls' State, which is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, is a week program to teach girls more about government. It will last from June 19 to June 26. Robin will be the third delegate sponsored by the auxiliary of the Paul H. Hughey Post in Washington C. H.

Robin was chosen from a list of names submitted to the auxiliary by Stephen Brown, high school principal, according to Mrs. Howard Mace, president. Mrs. Mace said Robin's name was picked out of a hat following the usual procedure and that three alternates also were selected.

The alternates are Mary Ann Grilliot, Barbara Manahan and Nancy Jane Boylan.

Over 420 Ohio girls are expected to attend the sessions at Capitol University, with those participating coming from public, private and parochial high schools. Only juniors interested in government are eligible.

Once the girls arrive on the campus, each one will be assigned to one of two political parties, "Idealists" or "Realists," to a city and a county. The girls will then form a government and pattern it as closely as possible after an actual state.

By actually having "a hand in the affairs" the girls are expected to learn more about politics and good government and consequently understand their part in both local and national affairs.

In the mythical "state" the girls set up, there will be two counties, Frogley and Clark, named for two deceased past department presidents of the Ohio American Legion Auxiliary, and ten cities, named after famous women of the state.

During the week, party caucuses will be held, boards of election appointed, petitions of declaration and candidacy filed, primary and regular elections held and certificates of election and commission issued.

The most colorful part of the program will be the inauguration Wednesday evening. At that time, various state officials will speak to the group.

At the remainder of the sessions, the girls will attend meetings with well-known officials connected with all parts of government. They also will be provided with reference material to help them with their studies.

Members of the committee include: Patty Noble, chairman; D. D. Foster, Joan Lambert and Carolyn Riley.

Zana Cowdrey also was elected as the news reporter for the club to replace Helen Penwell who is now working. Marlene Mickie will serve as assistant reporter.

Before the meeting adjourned Elizabeth Iden and Patty Noble were appointed as the refreshment committee for the next meeting.

Refreshments served by Marlene Mickie and Ilene Robison concluded the get-together.

Sales Tax Sales Reflect A Drop

Sale of prepaid tax receipts in the group of counties including Fayette, for the week ending May 28, showed slight gains in three counties and drops in the other four, including Fayette, which has shown gains nearly every week for months.

Greene, Madison and Pickaway counties showed minor gains, and the other four counties reflected drops in receipts for that week.

At the present time only one of the counties in the group with Fayette shows an increase in sales over those of last year during the same period, and that is Pickaway, which has a slight lead over last year's figures.

Fayette County's sales for the week ending May 28, reached $6,869.09 compared with $9,289.69 for the same week last year and receipts for the year to-date are $115,764.33 compared with $116,379.22 for the same period in 1948.

Sales in the state this year are $44,590,303 and for the same time last year they were $47,772,077.

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE

Sen. Daniels in Thick of Scrap In Legislature Over Finances

COLUMBUS, June 10—(P)—Private feuding between House and Senate members over knotty state money problems broke into the open Thursday.

Sen. Albert L. Daniels (R-Highland) took a few potshots on the Senate floor at Rep. Elizabeth F. Gorman (D-Cuyahoga). Mrs. Gorman had this to say in a letter to the Cleveland Plain-Dealer last June 5:

"As chairman of the education committee in the House, I gasped at the utter ludicrous action of the Senate in voting funds when funds were not available for schools."

She referred to a measure passed by the Senate to give school teachers $25-a-month pay raises for the next two years. The total appropriation would run $27,500,000.

"Since when is it utterly ludicrous to determine the needs of the state before passing legislation?" Daniels asked today.

Daniels termed Mrs. Gorman's letter "degrading" to senators' intelligence.

The Highland County senator recalled Mrs. Gorman voted against school appropriations in the previous legislature, and four years ago to sustain Gov. Lausche's veto of a school bill.

"It's not surprising she opposes a school bill at this session," Daniels observed.

He also recalled Mrs. Gorman was named education committee chairman by House Speaker John F. Cantwell (D-Mahoning).

"He (Cantwell) also consistently opposed legislation for public schools in Ohio," Daniels said.

Mrs. Gorman's letter also had this to say about Senate passage of the school bill:

"The action of the Senate stems from utter stupidity or an endeavor to embarrass Governor Lausche."

Senator Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga), Senate majority leader, answered the criticism: "I've never seen the time when the majority party did not try to uphold the governor's veto."

The exchange followed remarks by Senator Clingan Jackson (D-Mahoning), finance committee chairman, about the budget bill. Jackson said the Senate needed considerable time to study the measure after the House passes it.

The bill is up for the House vote next Tuesday.

Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt (R-Franklin), Senate minority leader, got into the gray. He blamed the budget delay on lack of leadership by Governor Lausche.

"It is the logical result of no executive program," Walcutt said.

A MURDER MYSTERY and a Western drama make up the twin bill that opens Sunday for a four-day run at the Palace Theater.

"Close Up," starring Alan Baxter and Virginia Gilmore, is a picture with teeming city for a setting. A wild chase through crowded streets is one of the hair-raising incidents.

Alan (Rocky) Lane is the hero of "Sheriff of Wichita" in which the chase is on horseback through the desolate wide open spaces.

Applying Hot Mix At Many Streets

The street crew under direction of Clyde Smith, street superintendent, is engaged in the work of making extensive repairs on many of the streets and alleys of the city, and the weather has been ideal since the work started last week.

Many breaks in the black top are receiving attention, and the job will continue for sometime as the hot mix is applied and surfaces of streets and alleys are brought up to par once more.

Cost of the program is heavy, and the work is to continue as long as funds are available to carry on the patching program.

is to follow a parade through the business section. The parade starts at 2 P. M. and all the kids are invited to fall in the line of march.

Incidentally, Kenny is on the Record-Herald staff. His home is in New York City; so maybe he doesn't understand about the wild west and horses.

Both the man and the horse in the picture are part of the Mt. Sterling club. The man's name is Bill Rush, in case you didn't recognize what you can see of him, but it might well be Hercules like that of another member of the Record-Herald news staff. The horse was unidentified.

Can't Silence Dogs But Number Cut

TOLEDO, June 10—(P)—Common Pleas Judge John M. McCabe says you can't silence barking dogs with a court order, but he did reduce the volume.

He issued a permanent injunction yesterday forbidding Mrs.

Lellah N. Nash of Toledo to keep more than one dog.

A neighbor had complained the barking of 10 German Shepherds at the Nash house caused him loss of sleep.

Mrs. Nash testified she kept five dogs "for protection."

FACTS FOR YOU ABOUT THE SWIMMING POOL

1. Construction of the Swimming Pool is planned to start this year.
2. That means $40,000 needs to be raised now to finish the swimming pool drive. This amount is to be raised in the next 60 days. Every interested citizen is going to have the opportunity to give, and give generously, according to his capacity.
3. We know some items of cost can be reduced. On the other hand, we intend to build a good, modern pool. If funds are available, a bath house also will be built.
4. What are the prospects? You would be encouraged and amazed if you knew the splendid response from the contributors to date. With the fine spirit now being shown by interested parents and other fine citizens, the goal can be achieved. Our young people are expecting pool construction to start this year, without fail. Surely, we do not want to disappoint them.
5. In brief, that's the story. Now it's up to you, and many other generous and unselfish people in this area. With your help, the pool will be built for our young people, yet this year.

Fayette Teams Set For Sunday

Crucial Tilts Ahead For All Four Squads

The Washington Senators will be out to hold their lead in the South Central Ohio League Sunday, while their county rivals, Jeffersonville try to grab second place.

In the other baseball loop, the South Western Ohio, the Washington Moose will be trying to inch closer to the top of the ladder while Good Hope tries to keep up its win streak.

The Senators will play host to Chillicothe, here, Sunday at 2:30 P. M., as the home team tries to make it two in a row over last year's champions. Carl Noon, Senator manager, said he will use his usual starting line-up with Carl Graves handling the mound chores.

The Jeffersonville Cubs will travel to Wilmington Sunday in their first tilt with the league's new entry. Wilmington joined the loop last week and lost both ends of a double header to Lancaster, the first by forfeit. Barney Coe, Cub mentor, will be trying to find a reliable pitcher again, to replace Gene Bryden, his ace southpaw who went to the Ohio-Indiana League. With Bryden gone, the Cubs are left with a big hole in their mound staff.

In the SWO, the Washington Moose will invade Frankfort in an effort to get back in the win column. Last Sunday, with a chance to take over first place, the Moose blew an early lead which left Bowersville on top. The Moose now have a record for four wins and two defeats, while Bowersville remains undefeated with five straight victories. Frankfort has already fallen prey to the Moose, when it lost earlier in the season.

Good Hope, the other Fayette County SWO squad travels to Bowersville to play the loop leaders. After getting off to a poor start, Tom Smalley's squad has won the last two games and will be out to better its present .500 mark. If Wackman, Good Hope's probable starter, can handcuff the league leaders, Smalley's team will be helping the Washington Moose no little bit, while making Good Hope a definite threat to the leaders.

Johnny Brown Wins Trot at Westbury

The victor, pay $14.20, scored by a length in 2:41 3-4 before a crowd of 15,852. Last year's Hambletonian winner, Demon Hanover, finished seventh. Dutch Harbor was second, with his entry mate, Chestertown third.

Bucky Getting Jittery As Braves Beat Reds

BY JACK HAND
(By the Associated Press)

The Cincinnati Reds' tale of woe gets more serious day by day.

Now it effects even the usually mild mannered Manager Bucky Walters.

Bucky was tossed out of the windup game with the Boston Braves yesterday and it was the first time in his managerial career the umpires had given him the heave-ho.

It came about during a protest to Lou Jorda over the calling of balls and strikes.

Of course Bucky has some reason to be jittery.

His Redlegs took a sound 10 to 2 beating from Boston yesterday for their 12th defeat in 16 games of the current road trip. And today they're in Brooklyn—and that's not encouraging.

The Dodgers are leading the National League and they've taken a lot of picks on the Reds during the last couple of seasons.

Yesterday's tilt with Boston was a bit on the brutal side.

The Braves hopped on Bud Lively for a couple of runs in the first innings and then they slaughtered him and Jess Dobner in the third for five more. All in all, they wound up with 14 hits which included seven doubles, a triple and a home run.

Meanwhile, Bob Hall was doing a good job of scattering seven Cincinnati hits and the Reds never were in the ball game after the third frame.

Saints Romp Over Mudhens; Red Birds Win

(By the Associated Press)

Almost everybody in St. Paul got into the act last night as the American Association league-leaders rode roughshod over Toledo, 22 to 2, and set a season's single game scoring record.

The only apostle who didn't contribute to the winners' 21-hit attack was catcher Sam Calderone, who scored one run in the parade across the plate. The Saints exploded for 11 runs in the third inning. Earl Naylor led the attack on three Toledo pitchers with four hits, including an eighth-inning grand slam homer.

Indianapolis, which trails St. Paul by only five percentage points kept pace with the leaders by pasting Minneapolis 10 to 6.

Louisville dropped Kansas City deeper into the association cellar by defeating the Blues, 8 to 2.

Jack Griffore allowed the losers only five hits.

Columbus took advantage of four Milwaukee errors and handed the slipping Brewers their fifth straight setback, 9 to 3. Fred McGaha, Red Bird right fielder, led the winners' 11-hit assault with three singles and a double for a perfect plate record. Pitcher John Remke allowed Milwaukee only three hits. He walked nine but gave up only one earned run in besting Jim Prendergast.

THE VALLEY OF VANISHING RIDERS

by NORMAN A. FOX

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE
THE FAT was in the fire. Knowing that, Chip tossed aside all pretense, wheeling his horse and spurring it to a gallop. Ives at his side, the two went thundering across the yard, heading for the open reaches beyond the ranch buildings. Guns began an angry banging, boots beat frantically across the ground and saddle leather squealed as men mounted. The chase was on.

Clear of the ranch buildings, Chip would have headed south toward Tumblerock town. But even riders as were already into saddles were fanning out below them, and though Chip tried to swing down the basin, he was forced each time to veer northward instead. This was the twilight hour, neither night nor day, when visibility was poorest, but that was in the fugitives' favor since they made uncertain targets for the hungry guns harassing them. Chip shouted, "North! It's our only chance!" and he and Ives went galloping in that direction.

Now they were into open country, but ahead of them was one of those many clumps of trees. Chip relished the thought of sheltering timber, but before they reached it his horse faltered, stumbled, made a valiant effort to stand, then buckled at the knees, bullet-stricken. Kicking free of the stirrups, Chip lighted running. Instantly Ives was hauling on his reins, extending a hand. "Up here!" he shouted.

Catching at Ives' hand, Chip swung behind the man's saddle, wrapped his arms around Ives, and the timber swallowed them. But once into this shadowy glade, Chip slipped to the ground. "Go on!" he ordered frantically.

Again Ives was hauling at the reins. "Not without you!" he cried. "Climb back up here!" "This is no time for any heroics!" Chip cried. "With that horse double-burdened, neither of us will get away. If you want to help me, keep on going and lead them off my trail. It may be a few minutes before they get close enough to find that you're alone. By then I'll be hunkered down in the brush somewhere. My trail leads south, but I can't take it unless you tell 'em off north."

Ives nodded. "You're right," he decided. "Where do we meet?" "Can you get past the sentry and into the Forlorn?"

"I think so," Ives said. "I've gone in many times as Alessandro's foreman. Possibly the Forlorners don't know I'm not holding that job."

"Then head for the valley," Chip ordered. "If I'm not there by noon tomorrow with Lia, tell the Forlorners to look at the paper Clark Rayburn left in his cabin for them. It's a blanket pardon. And bring the whole bunch of 'em to raid Alessandro's ranch and get Lia if I haven't already done that chore."

Ives nodded. "You're right," he decided. "Where do we meet?" "Can you get past the sentry and into the Forlorn?"

"I think so," Ives said. "I've gone in many times as Alessandro's foreman. Possibly the Forlorners don't know I'm not holding that job."

Drop In New Unemployment Claims Here

Number In State Is On Increase For Several Weeks

While new claims filed for unemployed compensation in Ohio have increased during the past few weeks, they have shown a sharp decrease in Fayette County, according to a report given out Friday by Ward C. Miller, manager of the Unemployment Compensation office here.

For the week ending May 7, new claims in the state totaled 15,267 and new claims in Fayette County reached 41.

For the same period continued claims in the state totaled 127,703 and in Fayette County the total was 199.

However, for the week ending June 4, total new claims in the state reached 14,986 and in the county they were only 16 compared with 41 for the week ending May 7.

Continued claims in the state for the week ending June 4 reached 130,250 and in the county the number was 133 compared with 199 for the week ending May 7. Some 73,667 newly unemployed persons filed claims during April with the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, it was reported today.

As of May 1, approximately 172,000 had filed applications for jobs in the state with the bureau's employment service—the highest figure since June of 1946. It compared with the 79,000 registered for jobs on May 1, 1948, bureau spokesmen said.

The number of newly unemployed persons filing claims for compensation during April was an 8 percent drop from March, 1949, but 84 percent above April of last year, 151 percent over April of 1947, and 15 percent below the figure for April, 1946.

The bureau reported 525,000 verified "continued" claims under process in April. Verified figures for May are not available at this time, officials said.

Bureau spokesmen pointed out the 525,000 figure does not mean there are at present that many unemployed persons in Ohio.

A "continued claim" represents a week of unemployment of an individual, and due to employment conditions, the total figure is subject to constant fluctuation, BUC spokesman said.

Daily Bible School Set by Church Here

Plans for a daily Vacation Bible School have been completed today for the First Christian Church.

The classes will start June 13 and last until June 24. They will include Bible lessons, music and handwork and will be held from 9 to 11:30 each morning.

Teachers for the classes are: Beginners—Mrs. Robert Howard, Mrs. Hazel McNorton, Mrs. Martha Meriwether and Mrs. Richard Moore.

Primary—Mrs. Edith Parsley, Mrs. Helen Flee, Mrs. Jane Carter and Miss Barbara Greer.

Juniors—Mrs. Helen Stookey, Mrs. Hubert Follis, Mrs. Ted Merritt, Mrs. Jane Pollard and Miss Juanita Tigner.

Young People—Rev. C. B. Tigner, Mrs. Mac Dews and Mrs. William Weatherly.

Music will be under the direction of Mrs. John Tigner, of New Holland, with Miss Mary Sue Belles at the piano.

Children from all churches or those who do not attend any church are invited, according to Rev. Tigner. He said efforts were being made to secure transportation from all sections of town. Rev. Tigner also urged all parents to call the church if they need transportation for their children.

and McCoy Field at 1:30 P. M. Tuesday.

High school softball leagues will be formed later at Wilson Field and Rose Avenue. They will play twilight ball starting at 6:30 P. M.

Under the sponsorship of the city recreation department city league softball games will continue to be played at Wilson Field at 7:30 P. M. Monday through Friday.

Adult Program, Too

Adults will also find recreational opportunities at Gardner Park, where four tennis courts, freshly painted this spring, and horse shoe pits are available for use.

Families who want to hold picnics or spend their time in nature's surrounding are invited to use the facilities at Washington C. H. park.

Parents are urged to bring their youngsters to the playgrounds and leave them under the supervision of Pierson's staff during hours when supervisors are scheduled to be on duty.

Children may continue to use the facilities at the playgrounds even when the supervisors are not on duty, however, Pierson emphasized.

Pierson has established his headquarters in the city building (phone 33151) for those who have questions about the program.

The recreation director said his

Three Injured In Auto Wreck

Crash at Bridge
Is Being Probed

A bad accident occurred on Route 32, Leesburg Road, at Sugar Creek Bridge, about 11 P. M. Thursday night, when a car owned by Earl Lynch and driven by Thomas Showalter, headed toward this city, and another driven by Burnie Dean Marshall, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marshall, of the Greenfield Road, collided, and three persons were injured.

With Marshall at the time were Patricia Patton, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Patton, and Norma Jane Theobald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Theobald.

Marshall and the two girls sustained injuries, and Miss Theobald was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, after receiving care by Dr. N. M. Reiff, and serious cuts about her face were given attention.

The Showalter car, after colliding with the bridge, went through a guard rail, tore out a guard cable, and landed in a ditch on the west side of the road.

The Marshall car was wedged in the bridge, and required two hours to remove it. The bridge was damaged considerably.

Deputy Sheriff Guy Carter investigated, and was continuing the inquiry Friday.

Showalter was not badly injured, but his car was heavily damaged.

Overall 4-H Club Picks Committees

The Marion Overall 4-H Club is planning for the future with two committees getting ready to handle the club's affairs more efficiently.

During a meeting held Thursday at the roadside park near Johnson's Crossing, the two committees were appointed by Jerry Dray, club president.

The scrap drive committee consists of: Kemp Alleman, David Dray, Ronald Vincent, Norman West and Charles Dray, which the project committee includes Chester Dean, Kemp Alleman, Charles Dray, Bob Oberschlake and Dwight Duff.

Besides discussing the committees and their work, Kemp Alleman secretary read a report and the group talked about a future camping trip.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Bill Trimmer, June 27.

The first public railway hauled by a locomotive operated in England in 1825 and covered nine miles in 65 minutes.

You ought to be driving a 1949 PONTIAC

Pictured above are typical examples of the two smart and separate lines of cars which bear the current imprint of Pontiac goodness—the Streamliner and the Chieftain De Luxe Sedan Coupes.

Each is in such demand that, on its own, it ranks among America's most popular cars today. That two cars of such decidedly different appearance should each enjoy such wide acceptance is easy to explain. THEY'RE BOTH PONTIACS!

While each has its own individualized smartness, both offer all the great basic Pontiac virtues. Both are conspicuously beautiful. Both carry the well-known promise of Pontiac quality—long life, dependability, and fine performance. Both afford the smooth, enjoyable performance of Pontiac's two great engines—the power-packed straight eight or its equally famous six-cylinder companion.

Finally, both represent unusual values—a very fine product at a very low price. Either one you choose will make you mighty happy.

Refreshments were served by the hostess before the meeting adjourned.
